Ped.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass staff. The treble staff contains chords and arpeggiated patterns, while the bass staff contains a steady accompaniment of chords.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece with similar chordal textures and arpeggiated patterns in both staves.

Third system of musical notation, showing a transition in the bass line with more active eighth-note patterns.

Fourth system of musical notation, featuring a melodic line in the treble staff and a steady accompaniment in the bass staff.

Fifth system of musical notation, with a more complex treble staff melody and a steady accompaniment in the bass staff.

Sixth system of musical notation, ending with a dim. marking and a Ped. marking. An asterisk (*) is placed at the end of the system.

First system of musical notation, consisting of a grand staff with a treble and bass clef. It features a continuous melodic line in the right hand and a supporting bass line in the left hand, both with flowing eighth and sixteenth notes.

Third system of musical notation. Similar to the second system, it shows a melodic right hand and a textured left hand. Pedal markings are used to indicate sustained notes.

Sixth system of musical notation. The right hand has a melodic line with a fermata. The left hand plays a steady accompaniment with chords. Dynamics markings include p.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef. The music consists of several measures with various notes and rests, including some beamed eighth notes in the treble.

Second system of musical notation, including a Ped. marking in the bass line. The music continues with similar rhythmic patterns and note values.

Third system of musical notation, including a rall. marking in the bass line and multiple Ped. markings with asterisks. The music features a change in tempo and dynamic markings.

Fourth system of musical notation, featuring multiple Ped. markings with asterisks. The music continues with a steady rhythm and clear articulation.

Fifth system of musical notation, including cres. and f markings. The music concludes with a final chord and a Ped. marking.

First system of a musical score. The right hand (treble clef) features a melodic line with eighth notes and a half note. The left hand (bass clef) provides harmonic support with chords and a few moving lines. Performance markings include rall. (rallentando) and dim. (diminuendo).

Second system of the musical score. The right hand continues the melodic development with some trills. The left hand has a more active bass line. Performance markings include p (piano) and tr (trill).

Sixth system of the musical score. The right hand has a melodic line with some grace notes. The left hand continues with a steady accompaniment.

Second system of the musical score. The right hand continues the melodic line with a long slur over several measures. The left hand has a more active accompaniment. A dynamic marking p is present in the right hand.

Fourth system of the musical score. The right hand has a melodic line with eighth notes and some grace notes. The left hand accompaniment consists of chords and moving lines.

Fifth system of the musical score. The right hand continues with a melodic line of eighth notes. The left hand accompaniment is consistent with the previous systems.

First system of musical notation. The right hand (treble clef) features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, including slurs and accents. The left hand (bass clef) provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. Dynamic markings include cr25. and f.

Second system of musical notation. The right hand continues the melodic line with slurs. The left hand accompaniment includes a p dynamic marking.

Third system of musical notation. The right hand features a melodic line with slurs. The left hand accompaniment consists of chords and single notes.

Fourth system of musical notation. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs. The left hand accompaniment includes a f dynamic marking and a series of chords.

hail! Hail! O

hail! Hail! O

This system contains the first two systems of music. The top system has two vocal staves with lyrics "hail! Hail! O". The piano accompaniment consists of a right-hand staff with chords and a left-hand staff with a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes.

King, Hail! . . . O King, Hail! . . . O King!

King, Hail! . . . O King, Hail! . . . O King!

This system contains the third and fourth systems of music. The top system has two vocal staves with lyrics "King, Hail! . . . O King, Hail! . . . O King!". The piano accompaniment continues with the same rhythmic pattern in the right hand and a more active line in the left hand.

This system contains the fifth system of music, which is entirely instrumental piano accompaniment. The right hand plays a series of chords, while the left hand continues with eighth-note patterns.

This system contains the sixth system of music, which is entirely instrumental piano accompaniment. The right hand features a melodic line with some grace notes, while the left hand maintains the eighth-note accompaniment.

hearts were twice as good as gold, And twenty times as mel-low. Good-tem-per triumphed in his face, And in his heart he found a place For all the er-ring hu-man race And ev-ry wretched fel-low. When he had Rhen-ish wine to drink It made him ve-ry sad to think That some, at junk-et or at jink, Must be con-tent with tod-dy, with tod-

The first system of music consists of a vocal line on a single treble clef staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves (treble and bass clefs). The vocal line contains the lyrics: "could-n't beat—Two Par-ty Lead-ers in each street Main-tain-ing, with no lit-tle heat, Their va-ri-ous o-pin-ions! That". The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand.

The second system of music continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line contains the lyrics: "King, al-though no-one de-nies His heart was of ab-nor-mal size, Yet he'd have act-ed o-ther-wis-e If he had been a". A piano dynamic marking (p) is present at the beginning of the piano accompaniment.
